DESIGN AIR VENTS

TECHNOLOGY MEETS DESIGN

CARE INSTRUCTIONS

Artisan quality fuses with exclusive materials and high standards for design. High quality production is the basis of our design air vents.

Tecanno air vents are made of powder coated sheet steel (coating thickness, approx. 60 µm). Some are refined with a panel made of glass, brushed stainless steel or finished sheet steel. They all feature outstanding care properties. Dirt and other contaminants are easy to remove if you observe the following instructions:

For best results, clean the air vents with a soft, lint-free cloth or feather duster. Powder coated sheet steel will not rust as long as the coating remains undamaged. It is essential to avoid scratching the vents.

Remove substantial soiling with a mild detergent solution or soap and water. Care for stainless steel parts with a stainless steel cleaning agent. Tecanno products must never come into contact with aggressive substances or liquids (acids, ACETONE, scouring agents, etc.) or with abrasive agents and cloths such as micro fibre, scouring pads and wire brushes. Always test whether the cleaning agent is suitable on an area that cannot be seen when the product is installed.

We wish you much pleasure with our design air vents for controlled ventilation.
